Questions:

- Do you believe your friends/peers are godly?
- What makes you feel your friends/peers are ungodly?
- Do your friends draw you closer to God, or further from God?
- How would the Lord lead you to handle ungodly friendships?
- Why are friendships important to you?
- What should you do to sanctify your relationships?
- How can you identify ungodly friends?
- How can you identify godly friends?

In Part 12 of Pure and Free we've learned about the effects of ungodly friendships. Over the next week, pray these prayer points:

In the name of Jesus:

- I repent for maintaining ungodly friendships.
- I repent for not seeking you concerning who my friends should be.
- I repent for fearing people and wanting to fit in more than I desire to please you.
- I pray that you help me to walk away from all ungodly friendships.
- Please give me the discernment I need to choose the right friends.
- Please help me to see my ungodly friends from a spiritual perspective.
- Please wash me from all of the evil seeds planted in my life because of the wrong friendships.
- I pray to receive blessings instead of curses when I make up my mind to leave ungodly people alone.
- I pray that you strengthen me to not love the world or the things of the world.
- I pray that you help me to shine like a light in this dark world.
- I pray that you would entrust godly friendships to me.
- I pray you would cause me to walk with the wise so I can become wise.
- I pray my life and friendship is a blessing to your saints and not a curse.
- Sanctify me so I can be iron used to sharpen iron.
- Lord, please don't let me live like a hypocrite.
- In your timing, please send godly people into my life who you can use to move me forward.
